How the institution determined which students did or will receive emergency financial aid grants and how much funding they did or will receive.

The Institution determined that students who were actively enrolled and the unmet need based on the Cost of Attendance (COA) would determine student's eligibility. It was determined a student who attended a residential program of study had the greatest exceptional need after the estimated financial aid was awarded would be the students eligible to apply and receive the emergency financial aid grant.

Students who were actively enrolled at the institution were eligible to apply for the emergency financial aid grant every six weeks. Students were required to submit an accurately completed application by a determined deadline date every six weeks. The application was reviewed by the institution to determine the amount of the grant based on the remaining unmet need from the COA minus estimate aid, and monthly discretionary. Students who had a FAFSA on file were given a higher score. The amount of the CRSSA-HEERF II grant ranged from $500.00 to $2500.00 every six weeks, until the funds are exhausted.
